

Document Templates and Social Media Design Work Samples

Kevin Digal | Virtual Assistant and Operations Support

Original concept materials informed by Happy 2 Help's public brand.
Prepared for Admin and Operations VA applications.

Candidate overview

Operations discipline and practical creative support

Almost six years supporting Australian and US businesses

Kevin brings the same follow-through used in day-to-day operations to document and content production.

Operations

Supplier communication, quotations, outstanding jobs and customer follow-ups

Records

CRM updates, trackers and clear hand-off notes

Content

Canva layouts and basic marketing materials; Facebook and Instagram scheduling in Meta Business Suite

Brand analysis

Happy 2 Help | public Facebook cover and company profile

Visual direction

Deep blue

Warm yellow

White

Bold sans-serif headings, a script accent in the cover, generous contrast and a friendly hand-mark. This sample uses the core blue, yellow and white palette.

Company and audience

A Philippine digital creative agency serving businesses, agencies and start-ups in Southeast Asia with branding, content and web development support.

Tone and customer needs

Approachable and upbeat. Clients need clear briefs, dependable asset hand-offs, a visible approval owner and consistent content.

Calls to action

Share a project brief, ask about a service, or comment on a workflow question.

Brand mark on these concept samples is a redraw for portfolio display; replace with the official logo file before publication.

Business document template

Creative project & client update | editable Word / Google Docs form

HAPPY 2 HELP

Creative project & client update

01 PROJECT DETAILS

Client / business

Service / deliverable

Brief received

Assigned person

Status

Priority

Actions completed

Outstanding requirements

Next action

Follow-up date

Notes and approvals • v1.0 • 23 Sep 2026

Why this form?

One editable record links the client brief, deliverable, owner, status, approvals and next follow-up. It helps a remote team pick up work without relying on memory or scattered messages.

Fields use placeholders so the form can be duplicated per project. Dates include the time zone where relevant.

Social media design samples

Original, coordinated concepts | square previews shown below

Educational

A clearer brief. A smoother project.

Caption

Before asking for a new design, put three details in the brief: who it is for, what the audience should do, and when it is needed. Add the required copy, brand assets and approval contact. A clear starting point gives everyone the same direction and makes feedback easier to act on. Save this checklist for your next project.

CTA: Save this checklist for your next brief.

Service

Creative support for a busy team.

Caption

Your next campaign may need more than one asset. Happy 2 Help describes creative support across branding, content and web design. This concept shows how a simple service post could introduce those areas without making a promise about turnaround or outcomes. Have a project in mind? Share the brief and the assets you already have so the right scope can be discussed.

CTA: Send a project brief to discuss the scope.

Engagement

What is holding up your next post?

Caption

Content can stall at different points: the brief is incomplete, a design needs another revision, or nobody knows who gives final approval. Which step takes the most time for your team? Tell us in the comments. Your answer can help shape a more useful creative workflow.

CTA: Comment with the step that slows you down.

Full platform sizes, captions, hashtags, posting windows and image descriptions accompany the six export files.

Workflow

From brief to organised hand-off

01

Review brief

02

Gather information

03

Create draft

04

Check brand

05

Obtain approval

06

Schedule / distribute

07

Track updates

Each hand-off has an owner, an approval point and a dated next action.

Tools and skills

A practical mix of operations, documents and publishing

Canva

Layouts, social creative and document concepts

Microsoft Office

Word, Excel and Outlook workflows

Meta Business Suite

Facebook and Instagram scheduling

CRM management

Accurate records, stages and follow-up notes

Google Workspace

Drive, Docs, Sheets and collaboration

Document organisation

Clear names, versions and approval trails

Across the workflow: attention to detail, clear written updates and prompt follow-through.

Organised documents. Consistent content.

These concept samples show how Kevin turns company information into a usable project record and coordinated social media materials, with a clear approval and follow-up process.

Kevin Digal | Virtual Assistant and Operations Support