

PLATFORM AND SIZE

Instagram square 1080 × 1080 px; Facebook feed 1200 × 630 px

HEADLINE ON GRAPHIC

A clearer brief. A smoother project.

SUPPORTING TEXT

Start with the audience, goal and deadline.

COMPLETE CAPTION

Before asking for a new design, put three details in the brief: who it is for, what the audience should do, and when it is needed. Add the required copy, brand assets and approval contact. A clear starting point gives everyone the same direction and makes feedback easier to act on. Save this checklist for your next project.

HEADLINE ON GRAPHIC

Creative support for a busy team.

SUPPORTING TEXT

Branding • Content design • Web design

COMPLETE CAPTION

Your next campaign may need more than one asset. Happy 2 Help describes creative support across branding, content and web design. This concept shows how a simple service post could introduce those areas without making a promise about turnaround or outcomes. Have a project in mind? Share the brief and the assets you already have so the right scope can be discussed.

HASHTAGS

CALL TO ACTION

Send a project brief to discuss the scope.

DESIGN DECISION

A bold headline and three service labels make the offer easy to scan. A single yellow shape adds energy without crowded stock imagery.

HEADLINE ON GRAPHIC

What is holding up your next post?

SUPPORTING TEXT

The brief, the design or the approval?

COMPLETE CAPTION

Content can stall at different points: the brief is incomplete, a design needs another revision, or nobody knows who gives final approval. Which step takes the most time for your team? Tell us in the comments. Your answer can help shape a more useful creative workflow.
